

CHILDREN and PREGNANT WOMEN

Need help finding and getting services?
A case manager might be able to help you.

You can get a case manager if you have Medicaid and need help getting services that can keep your health problems from getting worse. If you're age 20 or younger and have health problems or are pregnant with a high-risk pregnancy, a case manager can help you:

- Get medical and dental services.
- Get medical supplies or equipment.
- Work on school or education issues.
- Get other services.

To find out more about Case Management Services, call Texas Health Steps toll-free at 1-877-THSTEPS (1-877-847-8377)